

Please do not overturn New Jersey's Do Not Call List. I regard all calls to my phone from telemarketers as an invasion of my privacy. I wouldn't allow a salesman into my home and yet these people call at all times of day. It is especially a problem for the elderly who often risk falling when going to answer the phone. They get quite confused over who is calling and often buy something they don't quite understand. Why would you weaken a law that is working?
